

Notice to all Government Agencies and Purchasing Officers interested in purchasing a rescue sled:

Extractor has posted this notice to government agencies looking to purchase a sled and to those who are required to send a tender out to bid after receiving quotes or offers from Extractor for the desired sled.

Please be advised that the Extractor Rescue Sled is the only sled available on the market, which is authorized to manufacture and sell a rescue sled for personal watercraft which utilizes a solid, composite attachment/hitch or the "equivalent", as defined in our product description Extractor Sled with Quick Hitch. This hitch has a proven track record to be more reliable and superior in quality and function to the soft tie-down attachments (such as: rope, webbing, bungee cord and carabineers) as offered by competitors and in our low-end product Extractor Sled with Soft or Tie-down Attachment.

Warning! Check and Compare Closely!

Lately, Extractor has been experiencing the growing problem of other companies or distributors offering bids to government agencies claiming to offer sleds of "equivalency" to the specifications of the patented Extractor Rescue Sled with Quick Hitch. Extractor, being the inventor and manufacturer of the patented sled/hitch combination, is the only company authorized to sell these sleds or the "equivalent" within the United States and internationally (pending). We would like all potential government agencies or customers to be aware that if a company or distributor claims to offer in their bid the "equivalent" comparison to the Extractor Rescue Sled with Quick Hitch and not the original, authenticated Extractor Product, the likelihood is that you will be purchasing a sled that does not meet the specifications as offered by Extractor for the Extractor Sled with "Quick Hitch", and one that offers specifications as offered by our low-end product Extractor Sled with "Soft or Tie-down Attachment" (this low-end, inferior style of attaching a sled to a pwc is the only style offered by our competitors). Extractor currently does not have distributors and only sells direct to the end user unless prior arrangements have been made.

Please consider this when comparing sleds, their features or specifications and pricing, to make sure "apples are being compared to apples and oranges to oranges". If you have any questions please contact Extractor toll free at 1-888-748-5929 or 760-436-3488.

Thank you,

Daniel Elias-owner

The Extractor Sled is patented under U.S. Utility Patent # 5,354,222 and has other and foreign patents still pending. A U.S. Utility Patent covers the broad application of the device and is not limited to a specific design as defined within a Design Patent, meaning that the Extractor Rescue Sled with the Quick Hitch is protected by law and cannot be manufactured and sold by another unlicensed company simply by changing a design feature in the hitch to make it consist of "equivalent specifications", capability or quality, or by calling it by another product name or trademark.
